

Shelby Stoll
Regional Director
IdentityForce and TransUnion Brand

Education:

Northwest Missouri State University, Bachelor's Degree – University of Saint Mary, master's in business administration

Shelby lives in the Kansas City metropolitan area and works with partners across the United States leveraging the benefits of TransUnion's IdentityForce brand. She has spent 12 years immersed in the employee benefits industry. With a passion for educating her partners, Shelby sheds light on Fraud, Identity Theft and the harm that can befall anyone who falls victim. The majority of all data breaches occur due to an individual's error, and because of this, proactive steps to improve the ways in which we manage our name and likeness in the digital world are now more important than ever before.
