

2017 RECIPIENTS OF THE DIANE BAUER-WILKINSON WOMAN IN BUSINESS & INSURANCE SCHOLARSHIP

Taylour Halverson

Taylour is a junior at Edgewood College in Madison pursuing her Bachelors of Science in Nursing. She is the daughter of Chris Halverson (P&C Risk Management Sales Director) and was chosen as a 2017 Scholarship Recipient due to her academic success, selfless volunteerism and moving essay. Taylour's essay did an excellent job convincing us of her eligibility for this scholarship through her explanation of her father as her biggest influence. For those of you who know Chris, we agree with Taylour in that he is reliable, kind, caring, determined and clearly has done an amazing job raising his daughter!

Hailey Held

Hailey is a junior at the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities and is pursuing her Bachelors of Science in Biology and plans to continue her education after her undergraduate degree in Pharmacology. She is the daughter of Dan Held (Workers' Compensation Claims Specialist) and was chosen as a 2017 Scholarship Recipient due to her excellent academic success and passion for her field of study. As an active member in community volunteer groups, and Undergraduate Research Assistant and an advocate for health and wellness, Hailey credits her grandmother, Marian Held, for her determination and passion for life.

Congratulations Taylour and Hailey and best of luck to both of you in the rest of your academic careers!
